

Dr. David Black
Professional Bio

Dr. David Black, Ph.D. is the CEO, Founder, and Chief Psychologist of CORDICO, serving hundreds of public safety agencies nationally. Dr. Black serves as the Chief Psychologist for the California Police Chiefs' Association and is an Officer Wellness subject matter expert for the California Commission on Peace Officers Standards and Training (POST). He is a founding Board Member of the National Sheriffs' Association Psychological Services Group, serves as the Chair of Technology and Social Media, is an Advisory Board Member for the National Police Foundation's Center for Mass Violence Response Studies, serves on the National Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) Officer Wellness Committee, was one of two psychologists in the United States who served on the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) Model Policy Working Group for Investigating Officer-Involved Shootings and Other Serious Incidents, serves on the IACP Police Psychology Ethics Committee, and earlier served on IACP Police Psychological Services committees tasked with updating the standards for Fitness-for-Duty Examinations and Officer-Involved Shootings. Dr. Black has been serving law enforcement agencies since 2002 and began treating combat veterans suffering from PTSD in 1996.